Washington, May6.

A despatch has been received here announcing the death of the mother of Speaker Blaine at St. Paul, yesterday.

FLOUR—Dull and drooping $5 1026 30, White and James W. Paxton, all of whom testify that Mr. Steeprod's capacity was then as good as ever they had seen it, while at that time George W. Thompson was, by supersid decree, an exile from his quiet at $\frac{2}{3} \frac{2}{3} \frac{2}{3}. Lard unchanged.

Eggs—Dull and lower at 16c.

New York, May 6 testifics positively that the will was kept testifies positively that the will was kept by Mr. Steenrod in his own box at the Bank, of which he (Mr. S.) kept the key. He does not state that forty-two witnesses testified positively to the capacity of Mr. Steeney and not accommand it. Steenrod, and not one against it. does he state that the only evidence in the cause connecting G. W. Thompson with the will was the simple fact that the notes from which the will was in part prepared were in his hand-writing, and yet Mr. Jacob testifies that these notes were handed him by Mr. Steenrod; that he read them over to him; that he prepared a first draft of the will in about a week; that he read that to Mr. Steenrod; that Mr. Steenrod suggested modifications which were made, and that after that he re-drafted the will, then read it over to Mr. Steenrod, and that it was then exe-cuted, never having seen Judge Thompson in the matter.

A word more and I shall close. The writer objects to a Democratic jury; why, I know not, as all the parties to the case, so far as known to me, are Democrats. "Honors easy." The counsel who argued the case were balanced politically. Mr. Stanton, of the counsel for the will, is, I believe, a more radical Radical than Mr. Bingham, while Mr. Lamb and Mr. Pendleton certainly can bardly be placed out of the Democratic fold, with the balance in favor of Mr. Lamb, as Mr. P. has the misfortune to have been a Rebel.

The gratuitous expressions upon the Brooke county jury are hardly worthy of notice. A more intelligent, high-toned and competent jury, was (as is universally conceded) never seen in a jury-box in West Virginia. Of the twenty specially summoned by the Sheriff, whom no one dare openly impugn, seven were Repub-licans, and 13 Democrats, all freeholders. licans, and 13 Democrats, all freeholders and men of the first intelligence. The hallots were drawn from the last by the Judge, and by him handed to the Clerk, who called the names. Three Republicans and one Democrat were undrawn. One Republican was excused by the Court, and two were stricken off by the counsel for the will. This left the jury as stated. As to what the knowledge of the counsel for the will. This left the jury as stated. As to what the knowledge of the writer in your paper was as to what the opinions of the jury were "before argu-ment," I cannot say, as I had not the means of arriving at their opinions. I am inclined to think he is mistaken, in imony heard alike by jury and audience and which elicited from a prominent and well-known member of the bar, not con nected with the cause, when the testimony closed, the expression, "this is the baldest case for the contestants I over heard in a ourt of justice."

If the political opinions of the jurors is considered important, it may be material to recollect that the two jurors who sup-ported the will and hung the jury in Ohio county, were both Republicans. "A."
